May 2015 Newsletter

A VIEW FROM THE HILL

May Day in my family, for I won't tell you exactly how many years, has been the celebration of my mother's birth. And because Mom loves flowers and the tradition of May Baskets, ours have always been the posy gathering, door-bell ringing, basket delivering sorts of May Days. One year we even danced around a flowered and beribboned May Pole!

There are other May Days, of course. There is Beltane, the Pagan observance of the half-way point between the vernal equinox and the summer solstice (to which the May Day of flowers and baskets is related). There is Labor Day, observed on May 1 by much of the world beyond the borders of the United States with parades and displays of union solidarity. There is "mayday, mayday, mayday."

That last—mayday, mayday, mayday—was adopted by the International Radiotelegraph Convention of Washington in 1927, to replace SOS, the Morse code distress signal that was no longer optimal, as communications shifted to voice. It is the anglicized spelling of the French pronunciation of "m'aider", which means "help me." It is repeated three times so that distress calls are clearly distinguished from communications about distress calls.

Phew! Language is tough, complex, confusing. And powerful, beautiful, playful. Transmitting meaning and shaping meaning. And we are in the midst of another transformative shift in our use of language—this time from voice to text. The classic, easily grasped illustration of potential linguistic pitfalls is LOL. Folks of a certain generation might think it stands for Lots of Love, yet it is now the widely accepted short-hand for Laughing Out Loud. Two sentiments that are far from interchangeable in most situations. Opportunities for miscommunication abound; so do opportunities for connection.

However we say them, our world and our individual lives need lots of love and frequent bouts of laughing out loud, too. And Nora Church is a great source of both. We strive to communicate our intent and our meaning clearly. We laugh when we get it wrong. We drop everything and respond promptly to calls of mayday, mayday, mayday! And we love one another—through May Day. And May Day. And May Day. And all the other days of the years.

-Lisa

Helping Hands Needed at Nora!

As the weather gets nice it gives us opportunity to do a little up-keep on necessary items. There are a few projects around Nora that we need your help with! Maintenance and repairs are needed for the parsonage railing, the women's bathroom ceiling, as well as the Nora Church sign and continued work on the gazebo.

Please contact Darrell Hinsman for details at dhinsman@newulmtel.net or 507-276-6044.

Adult RE

Adult RE will resume on May 24th. Please bring a dish to share and join us in the social hall following the service, as we continue to Build Our Own Theology.

We are working with an established curriculum—Building Your Own Theology—with the understanding that as current events dictate we might break for open discussion any given month. No registration or advanced preparation necessary.

Notes from the Nora Office...

Please make sure to submit OOS and Mere Lys content by the deadlines to help me make the most of my time here. Thank you in advance for your timeliness and support in this matter!

Respectfully, Brooke
